

A 12-Month Journey for Teens to Discover Their Best Selves

The Impact Journal is designed especially for 13–17 year olds who are curious about who they are, what they can become, and how they can make a difference in the world.

It's not just a journal—it's a year-long adventure that helps young people discover their strengths, build confidence, practice gratitude, and connect with a bigger purpose.

The Vision

The Impact Journal is more than a book—it's the first step toward discovering your true self. It helps young people explore their unique voice, gifts, and purpose, while introducing them to the idea of ROAR—a vision that celebrates self-awareness, acceptance, and the power of living with impact.

How It Works

The journal is built around 12 levels—one for each month of the year. Every level has fun activities, challenges, and reflections that guide teens step by step on their personal growth journey. Along the way, they unlock rewards by scanning QR codes—things like playlists, badges, creative prompts, and even invitations to online workshops.

The 12 Levels

1. Discover Your ROAR – explore strengths and talents
2. The Gratitude Quest – practice positivity and Reconnecting
3. Think Your Best – build mindset and confidence
4. Express Your Spark – unlock creativity and innovation
5. Kindness Mission – spread compassion through action
6. Acceptance & Diversity – respect yourself and others
7. Join the ROAR Community – experience belonging
8. Reconnect with Your Best Self – focus on wellness and balance
9. Connect with Your Community – practice leadership through service
10. The STAGE – share your message with the world
11. Inspire & Be Inspired – learn from peers and mentors
12. Impact Hero Graduation – reflect, celebrate, and set future goals

This isn't just about reflection—it's about helping every young person live, lead, and love their best life while making an impact on the world around them.

Why This Matters?

Growing up can feel overwhelming—teens are under pressure, constantly connected, and sometimes unsure of where they fit. This journal gives them a safe, fun, and structured space to:

- Think positively and build confidence
- Express themselves through writing and creativity
- Learn to value diversity and practice kindness
- Connect to a global youth community (the ROAR movement)
- Build an “impact portfolio” that highlights their growth, voice, and achievements

Rewards Along the Way

- Weekly Wins: badges, playlists, videos, and creative prompts
- Monthly Milestones: digital certificates, wallpapers, or special challenges
- Final Reward: an Impact Hero Certificate and a “Digital Storybook of Me” that captures their entire journey

EXPANDED JOURNAL CONTENT STRUCTURE

The Impact Journal is designed especially for 13–17 year olds who are curious about who they are, what they can become, and how they can make a difference in the world.

It's not just a journal; it's a year-long adventure that helps young people discover their strengths, build confidence, practice gratitude, and connect with a bigger purpose.

Introduction Section

Welcome Page

The journal begins with a welcoming introduction that explains the purpose of the Impact Journal and invites teens to begin their personal growth journey.

This section introduces:

- What the Impact Journal is
- How it helps teens discover their strengths and talents
- How the journal supports personal growth, confidence, and positive impact
- How the ROAR values guide the entire journey

The tone of this section is encouraging and accessible, helping teens feel comfortable and excited to begin exploring their ideas, strengths, and potential.

What ROAR Means

The Impact Journal is guided by the ROAR philosophy developed within Aunua. ROAR represents four key principles that support personal growth, self-awareness, and positive connection with others and the world around us.

Recognition

Recognising your strengths and greatness is the first step in personal growth. By embracing our unique gifts, talents, and abilities, we begin to understand what makes us special. This awareness helps build confidence and allows us to feel comfortable and proud of who we are.

Openness

Openness encourages us to develop greater self-awareness and expand how we see the world around us. By being curious, listening to others, and learning from new experiences, we can create a kinder and more compassionate environment where everyone has the opportunity to grow and shine.

Acceptance

Acceptance means embracing ourselves and appreciating the people around us. When we celebrate differences and respect diverse perspectives, we learn more about the world and about ourselves. This understanding strengthens communities and makes life richer and more meaningful.

Reconnecting

Reconnecting reminds us that we are part of something bigger than ourselves. By reconnecting with others, our communities, and the world around us, we build the courage and strength needed to navigate life's challenges while supporting one another along the way.

MONTHLY PAGE FLOW

Each level begins with inspiration and moves through exploration, action, and reflection. This structure ensures the journal remains engaging, interactive, and meaningful throughout the 12-month journey.

1. Monthly Inspiration Page

Each month begins with a short inspirational introduction connected to the monthly theme.

- Content may include:
- A motivational quote
- A short story or reflection
- A simple challenge to start the month

Purpose:

To inspire curiosity and encourage teens to begin the month with an open and positive mindset.

2. Young Changemaker Spotlight

Throughout the journal, selected pages will feature inspiring young people who are creating positive change in their communities and around the world. These stories are intended to motivate teens by showing that meaningful impact can begin at any age.

Each spotlight may include:

- Name and age
- Country or community
- What they care about
- The action they took
- The impact they created

Reflection prompt for the reader:

“What inspires you about this story?”

“What small action could you take in your own community?”

Purpose:

To inspire teens by highlighting real examples of youth leadership, creativity, compassion, and activism, and to encourage them to recognise that their own ideas and actions can also create meaningful change.

YOUNG CHANGEMAKER SPOTLIGHTS - EXAMPLE

Meet Prasiddhi Singh

Age: 13

Country: India

Prasiddhi Singh is a young environmental activist and the founder of the Prasiddhi Forest Foundation. She began her environmental journey at a young age after witnessing the effects of a cyclone in her region. Inspired to protect nature, she started planting trees and educating communities about sustainability.

Today, Prasiddhi has helped plant more than 160,000 trees and has created an eco-army of over 80,000 young environmental supporters around the world. She is also a UNICEF Youth Advocate working on climate action, gender equality, and sustainable development.

Her work shows how young people can take action to protect the planet and inspire others to care for the environment.

Reflection prompt for readers:

What small action could you take to help protect nature in your community?

Meet Lizza Marie Kawooya

Country: Uganda

Lizza Marie Kawooya is a social impact leader dedicated to advancing girls' education and gender equality. She founded the Dwona Initiative, a nonprofit organisation that works to amplify the voices of women and girls by supporting education and creating safe spaces for young people.

Through her work, Lizza addresses challenges such as gender inequality, barriers to education, and gender-based violence. She has been recognised for her leadership and has received awards for her efforts to create meaningful change in her community.

Her work reminds us that empowering others and advocating for equality can transform lives and communities.

Reflection prompt for readers:

How can you support equality and fairness in your school or community?

Meet Kasha Sequoia Slavner

Country: Canada

Kasha Sequoia Slavner is an award-winning documentary filmmaker and youth advocate who uses storytelling to inspire social change. At just 15 years old, she founded The Global Sunrise Project, an initiative that highlights positive stories of young people working to improve the world.

Her documentary work has been recognised internationally and has screened at dozens of film festivals around the world. Through films, photography, and workshops, Kasha encourages young people to use their voices and creativity to raise awareness about important global issues such as peace, climate change, and social justice.

Reflection prompt for readers:

How could you use creativity or storytelling to share an important message?

YOUNG CHANGEMAKER SPOTLIGHTS - EXAMPLE

Meet Liam Fuller

Country: Ireland

Liam Fuller is a young entrepreneur and technology leader working in artificial intelligence and digital innovation. As CEO of Source, he focuses on developing AI solutions that support professional services and new forms of digital business.

Through his work in technology and entrepreneurship, Liam demonstrates how innovation and curiosity can lead to new opportunities and solutions. His journey encourages young people to explore emerging technologies and think creatively about how they can shape the future.

Reflection prompt for readers:

What problem would you like to solve using technology or innovation?

Meet Flossie Donnelly

Country: Ireland

Flossie Donnelly is a young ocean advocate who began organising beach cleanups after noticing plastic pollution harming marine life. Determined to protect the ocean, she started leading beach cleanups and raising awareness about the importance of keeping our coastlines clean.

Her work has inspired many people in her community to take action and care for the environment. Through her efforts, she shows that even small actions can create a big impact when people work together.

Reflection prompt for readers:

What is one simple action you could take to help protect your local environment?

These stories remind us that young people everywhere are making a difference. No matter your age, background, or interests, your ideas and actions have the power to create positive change.

MONTHLY PAGE FLOW

3. Self-Discovery Pages

Self-discovery is a central part of the Impact Journal experience. These pages are designed to help teens explore their personal identity, strengths, interests, and aspirations in a safe and encouraging space. Through guided prompts and reflective activities, teens are encouraged to think about who they are, what they enjoy, and the kind of impact they would like to create in the world.

These pages allow teens to express themselves through writing, drawing, and creative thinking while developing a deeper understanding of their abilities and values.

Activities may include:

Identifying personal strengths

Teens reflect on the qualities and abilities that make them unique. Prompts may encourage them to think about what they are good at, what others appreciate about them, and moments when they felt proud of themselves.

Exploring passions and talents

Teens are invited to explore the activities, hobbies, or subjects that bring them joy and excitement. This may include creative interests, problem-solving skills, leadership qualities, or areas where they feel curious to learn more.

Reflecting on values and dreams

Guided questions encourage teens to think about what matters most to them, the kind of person they want to become, and the positive changes they would like to see in the world.

Defining personal goals

Teens are encouraged to set small, achievable goals related to personal growth, learning, kindness, or creativity. These goals help them practice planning and taking steps toward meaningful achievements.

Some pages may also include creative exercises such as drawing personal symbols, designing a “strength shield,” writing personal affirmations, or describing a future version of themselves.

Purpose:

To help teens develop self-awareness, confidence, and a stronger sense of identity while discovering the unique strengths and perspectives they bring to the world.

MONTHLY PAGE FLOW

4. Weekly Challenge Pages

Each month includes four weekly challenges aligned with the monthly theme.

Week 1 - Discover

Focus on observation, awareness, and reflection.

Week 2 - Try Something New

Encourage curiosity and exploration.

Week 3 - Take Action

Apply new ideas or strengths in real-world situations. - may be we can mention that detailed month by month plan is in the preceeding pages

Week 4 - Reflect and Share

Encourage reflection and recognition of personal growth.

Purpose:

To guide teens through small, meaningful actions that support personal development.

*The detailed month-by-month plan is included on the following pages.

5. Creative Expression Pages

Creative spaces are included throughout the journal to allow teens to express ideas and emotions visually or through writing.

Examples include:

- Drawing prompts
- Idea brainstorming
- Personal reflections
- Creative storytelling

Purpose:

To encourage creativity and provide a safe space for personal expression.

MONTHLY PAGE FLOW

6. Community and Kindness Activities

Some pages focus on encouraging teens to engage positively with others and their communities.

Examples include:

- Acts of kindness
- Supporting friends or classmates
- Small community contributions
- Appreciation and gratitude exercises

Purpose:

To connect personal growth with Acceptance and social impact.

7. QR Code Reward Pages

At key milestones, teens will be able to scan QR codes to unlock digital rewards connected to the Aunua platform.

Possible rewards include:

- Digital badges
- Inspirational videos
- Creative prompts or challenges
- Playlists or motivational content
- Invitations to online activities or workshops

Purpose:

To create an interactive experience that motivates engagement and celebrates progress.

8. ROAR Reflection Page

At the end of each monthly level, teens complete a reflection based on the four ROAR values.

Respect
Open-mindedness
Acceptance
Reconnecting

Reflection questions help teens think about how they practiced these values during the month.

Purpose:

To reinforce the core values and encourage thoughtful reflection.

MONTHLY PAGE FLOW

9. Monthly Achievement Page

Each month concludes with a page where teens record their achievements and personal growth.

Examples include:

- Something I am proud of this month
- A challenge I completed
- A new strength I discovered

Completion of the month unlocks a milestone reward or digital badge.

Purpose:

To celebrate progress and build confidence.

10. Building an Impact Portfolio

Throughout the journal, teens gradually build a record of their ideas, reflections, and achievements. By the end of the 12-month journey, these pages form a personal “Impact Portfolio” highlighting their growth, voice, and contributions.

Purpose:

To help teens recognise their development and celebrate their journey.

DIGITAL ENGAGEMENT AND QR REWARD EXPERIENCE

To create an interactive and motivating experience, the Impact Journal integrates digital engagement elements that connect the physical or digital journal with the Aunua online platform. These features help maintain interest, celebrate progress, and encourage teens to stay engaged throughout the 12-month journey.

At key milestones within the journal, teens will be able to scan QR codes that unlock digital content and rewards. These moments act as checkpoints that recognise effort, reinforce learning, and provide additional inspiration.

Digital rewards may include:

- Digital badges that recognise milestones and achievements
- Short inspirational videos featuring young changemakers or mentors
- Creative prompts and bonus challenges to encourage further exploration
- Music playlists or motivational content that support reflection and creativity
- Access to exclusive digital resources, activities, or youth community content

These rewards are placed strategically throughout the journal to correspond with important learning moments, such as completing a self-discovery activity, practicing Reconnecting, or finishing a community impact challenge. The QR reward system encourages consistency and adds a sense of excitement as teens progress through each level of the journal.

In addition to rewards, the digital elements may also support the development of a personal Impact Portfolio, where teens can track their progress, achievements, ideas, and reflections over time. This portfolio becomes a record of their journey, highlighting how their confidence, creativity, and leadership have grown throughout the program.

Purpose:

To enhance the journal experience through interactive digital engagement, motivate teens to complete activities, and celebrate their personal growth as they progress through the Impact Journal journey.
